Mark 14:12-16, 22-26

The last supper accounts in the gospels can only be properly understood against the background of the Jewish Feast of Passover. At the time of Jesus Jews all over the Roman Empire gathered to celebrate this great feast, seeing in it not only a glorious past event but also the promise of a new intervention by God when he would once again act to free them from oppression and remove the guilt of their sin. It is precisely this understanding that we find in today's reading from Mark. Jesus' action at the table is a ritual that anticipates his life-giving death. His death on the cross inaugurates a new covenant, a new relationship between God and his people. This is why it is so hildren of the one Father. As we share the meal let us pray for the grace to live a life that is worthy of it.important for us to 'do this in memory' of him. As the new people of God we celebrate our identity when we come together for Eucharist. We give thanks for who we are and all that God has done for us.

Reflection

To understand the Eucharist we do not need to be experts in theology nor in the rituals of ancient Israel. Jesus left us the symbols of bread and wine as realities that speak to us of nourishment and celebration. He gave us these realities the night before he died as he shared a meal with his dearest friends in the world. As on the next day he would give his life on the cross, so in this meal he gave himself to them, a lasting gift of love and friendship that only God could give. By participating in it we commit ourselves to the new and everlasting covenant, a covenant which recognises that we are brothers and sisters of Jesus and children of the one Father. As we share the meal let us pray for the grace to live a life that is worthy of it.

HOW HAS THIS TIME OF PANDEMIC IMPACTED ON YOU AND YOUR FAMILY?

We are inviting parishioners to an opportunity to have a conversation by zoom on their experience and challenges during the last twelve months of living with the pandemic.

It is good to have some reflection on this time. Many people have experienced change, losses and blessings. How are you right now in this time? What questions has it raised for you? How have you coped? What ideas do you have going forward? The invitation is to spend some time as a parish community to share our reflections in a friendly and safe space.

The conversation evening will take place on Wednesday 9th June at 7.30 pm. Numbers are limited. To book your place please email your name and phone number to the parish office e:glenavystjosephs@downandconnor.org
